JOHN BORDEN, Editor

FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1914

Hon. Frank Oliver has given notice of an amendment to the C.N.R. act resolution calling for the equalization of freight rates in Western and Eastern Canada. The Railway Commission refused to equalize the rates under the existing legislation. There remains only the hope that Parliament will provide the needed legislation. That is the purpose of the amendment cited.

Mr. Borden says the C.N.R. line through British Columbia is to be declared a work "for the general advantage of Canada." There are entitled to Dominion assistance, and therefore also amenable to the ruling of the Railway Commission. Sir Richard McBride says the Railway Commission has nothing to say about the freight rates on the line because the Province has guaranteed the bonds and will retain the right to keep up the rates as a means of making the enterprise pay its way. In this respect, as in others, the Dominion Government seems to have accepted Sir William's demand without the remotest regard as to the impingement upon Provincial interests.

It is easy to understand that Alderman Campbell and those in the council who have similar aims and manners should wish to withdraw from an assemblage whose weekly gatherings are more like brawls in a bar-room than debates in a representative assembly. The electors owe these aldermen an apology for indicting upon them the humiliating duty of sitting through these exhibitions. But this is no time for aldermen of this stamp to withdraw from the council. Upon them rests the responsibility of representing with what effectiveness they can the views of the ratepayers, and of protecting so far as possible the interests of those who pay the taxes. Though, unfortunately, Alderman Campbell and those who commonly act with him frequently find themselves in the minority, they have a field of real usefulness in steadily representing to the administration what is thought of it by a large and reputable portion in the community, and in drawing out information which will to some extent let the public know what the bosses of the administration are doing behind the scenes. The administration, too, is weak in that its majority in the council is not dependable for it is not composed of men of common aims and purposes. Hitherto the mayor and his henchmen have been able to secure a majority at the council board, not only by so manipulating matters as to line up with themselves aldermen who can have neither sympathy nor respect for either their manners, methods or ideals. With the full revelation of what the administration stands for and what there are no coming signs that these aldermen will not longer be counted among its supporters, and that the minority may, on essential matters, find themselves in the majority. That assembly must happen if they press for a full and complete investigation into police affairs and into the Wardship's aldermen's "gang" of wolves. Though it can never be a desirable duty to have to listen to His Worship's habitual abuse of gentlemen of standing and repute in the community, or to Ald. Clarke's harangues, it is a duty that must be discharged under the absolute control of the city and its business is to be allowed to fall into the hands of a "Tansy" organization. That is a service worth rendering, even at the expense of personal disinclination to listen to the irresponsible slanging and hanging which commonly characterizes a meeting of the Edmonton city council.

The Montreal Gazette, Conservative, says of Mackenzie and Mann's demand for further aid from the Dominion: "The letter of Sir William Mackenzie, the president of the Canadian Northern, with which, so far as the documents presented show, the negotiations were begun, is curt almost to the point of insolence."

What the public want is an investigation which will show whether the police of the city have, on behalf of themselves or others, been collecting hush money from persons allowed to conduct disorderly houses or otherwise allowed to operate in contravention of the law. What the council majority seem disposed to put on is an investigation which will show how much the public know of the relations between the police department and the criminal element. What do the aldermen want to know that for? And why should they try to prevent the public finding out what they are entitled to know?

Previous to Tuesday evening members of the city council might fairly claim to be immune from suspicion of siding in the fight between the credit of Canada and the credit of the C.N.R. It is true that this business has been given police protection in return for the payment of bribe-money. Not any more. The members who put through the blocking resolution thereby put themselves on the defensive, and will have to establish their innocence if they want to remove suspicion. They had nothing to hide, why did they tie up the enquiry for a week, and thereby give time for those qualified to throw light on the conditions to get, or be got out of town?

The theory that it is necessary to formulate a series of questions to direct, define and limit the scope of a judicial enquiry into police affairs is nonsense. The probability is that in the existing circumstances no judge would consent to conduct an investigation into the police, and the controlling group in the council would submit. However that may be, there already exist a sufficient number of starting points for a wide-spread enquiry if that had been what the council majority wanted. The formulation of a series of questions is only an excuse for blocking the whole matter for a week, and then steering the investigation along certain prescribed lines. The aldermen who are responsible for balking and limiting the enquiry will have to show cause if they hope to be acquitted of having ends to serve.

The militant suffragettes have carried their anarchistic propaganda to the logical limit, and threaten to "shoot the King." The cry may be only raised in hope of attracting attention to a faction whose campaign of window-smashing, art-destruction and house-burning has failed to retain interest. In that event it is likely to succeed, perhaps better than is intended or wanted. John Ball is very patient, and extremely considerate of the fair sex, but incidents of late have shown a growing disposition on the part of the mere men to return violence for violence. The narrow threat is likely to sharpen this autogamy, while it must also drive into open opposition those of both sexes who favor the extension of the franchise to women who show themselves capable of exercising it to the general good, but who have no sympathy with militant methods.

IN HOUSE or COMMONS

Ottawa, May 29th, 1914.

The vote on the Canadian Northern resolutions resulted in a Government majority of 47, the largest of the session. Bennett and Nicks were the Conservative votes against the Government, and W. A. Charlton, Liberal, voted with the Government. Aikins, of Brandon, was paired and did not vote, but stated that if he had voted he would have voted with the Government. Hepburn, whose name had been mentioned as a probable bolter, voted with the Government without remark. The larger Government majority on this vote than on other occasions was due to the fact that the Nationalists who have generally absented themselves were present on this occasion to help the Government through. Although the result of the vote was very satisfactory to the Government, it did not correctly indicate the opinion of the Government supporters towards the measure. Burnham, who spoke yesterday, suggested that Mackenzie and Mann had been recs from the view traffic, if for the purpose of hanging themselves, in which case there would be no general regret. If they defaulted and foreclosed did not follow there would not be a revolution in the country.

Charlton based his support of the resolution on the necessity of maintaining the credit of Canada and completing the enterprise. He did not agree with the details of the resolution, but considered that they should be allowed to go down. He had nothing to hide, why did they tie up the enquiry for a week, and thereby give time for those qualified to throw light on the conditions to get, or be got out of town?

Neely, of Humboldt, Saskatchewan, opposed the resolutions on the ground that they deprived the Province of control of the railway which they had sold, and assisted, without providing for its completion. He was not opposed to the Canadian Northern enterprise, but considered that Mackenzie and Mann should become personally responsible for the further aid that was proposed by the resolutions.

McCrea, of Sherbrooke, Quebec, said that the resolution of the individuality of the various subsidiary C.N.R. companies looked like provision for opportunities for a rake-off. He considered that the Government should have made provision for the proper expenditure of the money to be raised, and also should have ascertained whether past aid had been honestly spent. It had been rumored that due to the conditions of giving aid was that the Quebec and Saguenay Railway was to be taken over by the C.N.R. system. Dealing with the frequently made assertion that Mackenzie and Mann had made no profit out of the C.N.R., Mr. McCrea said that if that were so they must have been fed with money raised down from heaven, to do so well as they had. Mr. McCrea's reference to the acquisition of the Quebec and Saguenay accounted for the presence of the Nationalist wing of the party's strong force. Sir Rodolphe Forget is the chief figure in the Quebec and Saguenay, and there is no doubt that the Nationalist support was his end of the bargain of which the other end was the assumption by the C.N.R. of the Quebec and Saguenay Railway.

Verville, Liberal Labour member of Montserrat, Quebec, said that the guarantee had a liability of $6.20 on every man, woman and child in Canada.

Maclean of "The Toronto World," who from time to time makes vicious attacks on transportation and other monopolies, supported the resolutions on the ground that they were a step in the direction of Government ownership.

Following the vote the resolutions were considered in committee. Carvell and other Liberals strongly insisted that Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann, as individuals, should be made responsible for payment of certain indebtedness mentioned in Section Five of the resolutions, as well as the company of Mackenzie and Mann, Limited. The Government strongly opposed this suggestion and the amendment was negatived.

Earlier in the day a resolution to increase the dry-dock subsidy was introduced by the Minister of Public Works. At present the Government pays 3½ per cent for thirty-five years on the cost of dry docks of certain capacity. The bill increases the aid to 4 per cent. The subsidy runs for thirty-five years, and the result is that in thirty-five years, with interest at 4 per cent, if a dry dock is built at a cost of $2,000,000, the subsidy will be $80,000 a year, and in thirty-five years $2,000,000 will have been paid in interest by the country on a $2,000,000 investment. At present the Vickers-Maxim Company have established a floating dry dock at Montreal, and the J. Norton Griffiths Company are constructing a dry dock at St. John, N.B., on the 3½-per cent subsidy basis. It would seem, therefore, that the extra half per cent is not necessary to secure the construction of dry docks, and is simply a hand-out to prospective dry-dock contractors who are friends of the Government.

Radials Spring Surprise, Defeat Sons of England

At Half Time Score Was 1 to 0—Radials Aided Another After the Interval—Ernest Parker Was Badly Missed by S.O.E.—Winnipeg's Defence Played Grand Game

(By "Tough-Judge.")
The Sons of England were the home team in a senior league football game played at Edmonton, Friday, May 29. The Radials went to the game as the visiting team, and were expected to win. The game was a surprise to many, as the Radials were expected to win. The game was a surprise to many, as the Radials were expected to win. He maneuvered too long and blundered him. From subsequent play, however, sent him from the corner field. Smith had to save a goal shot. Clapton sent the ball back into goal, but Whitehead kicked out well and the stripes right wing were off and Shaw had to clear. Morgan and Austin brought play again to danger, but Adams and Whitehead sent them back with good kicks and a moment later Adams repeated the performance, and Morgan went down and played well. The Sons now had a turn and Gregory and hard lines. Morgan sent the ball down and Whitehead tested the keeper, and a second later he sent in a dandy which Shaw dropped, but he recovered and cleared. After interchanges, Red was slightly injured, but soon recovered. From the throwdowns, the Sons were off, but Baker, Whitehead, Adams, Morgan and Clapton were wonderful games and the sphere was repeatedly won by the Sons. Try they would the English score was not made and the game was a surprise to many, as the Radials were expected to win.

First Half.
Radials won the coin and defended the goal. The stripes were smart on the ball from the first minute, a corner, which was neatly cleared, and a moment later the stripes were in trouble, but the shot went over the bar. Discovery of Black Rust in Oklahoma Carries Price Upward

By Bulletin London Wire.
CHICAGO, May 20.—The discovery of black rust in Oklahoma carried wheat today up to $1.40 a bushel for May delivery, the highest price of the crop year. There was a nervous feeling at the close, which was 14 to 15 cents above last night. Oats finished a shade to 1/8 down.

News of the finding of black rust spots on Oklahoma wheat came after prices had responded in a moderate way to reports of damage from wind and rain in Texas and Oklahoma. The Chicago market was not fully maintained on black rust, but has been a menace to wheat since the season has been late enough for a third crop of wheat to develop. Estimates in May option were emphasized by the clearing of wheat from 1,000,000 bushels to be shipped from here to Georgian Bay and Montreal. There is but one more day for May contracts to run and some goods were indicated in the morning of an eleven-hour flurry among shorts.

Relief from drought complaints permitted an easier feeling in regard to oats. May broke almost 2 cents at one time, but rallied toward the close.

Chicago, May 20.—Two much rain in Oklahoma had a bullish effect on the wheat market. Some wheat fields almost ready for the harvest were reported to have been beaten by the ground by several inches. The bulk of these reports of rain in 24 hours with an additional fall of one inch after opening 1-1/2 cent to 1-1/4 cent up the market made some advance all around. The May option broke more than a cent. Signs of a complete ending of the drought were chiefly responsible.

Trouble from rust in the southwest tended further to lift quotations. So also did the reports of wheat from Montreal. May sold at $1.40, the highest price of the crop year. Chicago prices were nervous, 1-1/4 to 1-1/2 cents above last night.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, May 20.—The Winnipeg market opened firm on steady Liverpool cables, apprehensions of probable arrival of damage by heavy rain in the winter wheat sections of the states, owing to dry hot weather there, and word of moderate Western and Southern Southwestern and Southern Alberta. Wheat futures opened 1-1/2 to 1-1/4 higher, oats unchanged and flax 1-1/4 to 1-1/2 higher. Following the opening there was a fractional advance on wheat, sympathy with American markets holding steady in the good demand caused by shorts covering. Wheat closed 1-1/2 day later. In cash trading there was few offerings, the heavy being chiefly for No. 3 Northern wheat and lower grades for export. Flax was dull. Cash wheat closed 1-1/2 to 1-1/4 higher, cash oats unchanged to 1-1/4 lower to 1-1/2 higher. Cash flax closed 1-1/2 to 1-1/4 higher for No. 3, and 1-1/4 to 1-1/2 lower for No. 2. The market was not fully maintained on black rust, but has been a menace to wheat since the season has been late enough for a third crop of wheat to develop. Estimates in May option were emphasized by the clearing of wheat from 1,000,000 bushels to be shipped from here to Georgian Bay and Montreal. DISTINGUISHED GUESTS ATTEND THE INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION LUNCHEON

Mr. E. Michener, Leader of Opposition in Alberta Legislature, Discusses Some Problems of Alberta's Development—Glasgow's Senior Magistrate Here to Investigate Single-Tax System

(From Evening Edition)

The Industrial Association had many prominent visitors as guests of honor at the luncheon at noon yesterday. Among those present were: Thomas McMillan, senior magistrate of Glasgow, Scotland, and Andrew Walker, assessor of the same city who have come to America to study the system of public ownership of utilities and the single tax in this country; also, J. C. Robinson, deputy assessor, Albermarle E. A. Fryers and W. A. Humberg and J. A. Hunter, of Moncton, N.B., and W. A. Hunter, of Vancouver.

Michener Principal Speaker

The speaker of the day was Mr. E. Michener, leader of the Opposition in the Alberta Legislature. In speaking of "Some Problems of Alberta's Development," Mr. Michener said that in the past we had been following the false position of getting rich by speculation on the resources of the country, rather than through development. While it might be possible to become rich through speculation in oil stocks, he felt that that money would be put into the hands of a few people and not into the hands of the people who had made it. At the same time, only four per cent. of our farm lands, the foundation of our permanent wealth, were under cultivation.

Real Foundation of Wealth

The real foundation of our future wealth lay in the getting of people on the land, for while our oil was more fertile than that of any of the other provinces of the Dominion, we were not an important people in so far as our food stuffs were concerned.

The foundation of our wealth was in farming, and to this should be devoted the first energies. Industrial development, encouraged by this and our natural cheap electric power in the form of coal, gas and oil, would follow naturally. We were the first time in the experimental stage. People did not know of our splendidly fertile soil. Education was necessary. Instead of educating for the professions, we should have a more specific course in our schools that would fit the rising generation for the farm as soon as the common school course was completed.

Hope of the Future

Mixed farming and dairying was the hope of the future, he said, and as an example mentioned the fact that while the output of milk in the district of Red Deer, one of the leading dairy districts of the province, at the present time only amounted to about $1,000,000 annually, it should amount to at least $2,000,000.

Two Trains Needed

President Macmillan announced that for the "On-to-Ontario" trip two trains would now be necessary, and that those who had not yet made reservations would require to do so as speedily as possible, in order to secure the necessary accommodation.

AROUND THE CITY

(From Evening Edition)

The bank, clearing for the week ending today totalled $7,119,786. For the corresponding week last year the total was $2,576,289.

A Preparatory Service will be held in the First Presbyterian Church on Friday evening at eight o'clock. The service will be held at the time. The time is about $125.

First street shock, injured.—A car started in a small shock in First street at Alberta avenue, about ten o'clock this morning. The building was hurled to the ground and a dog was injured. The car, at the time, was about $125.

Fugitive of Auto Victim.—Lulu Campbell, the six-year-old daughter of John Campbell, 441 Dalton street, was last knocked down by an auto on Tuesday afternoon, will be heard this afternoon at four o'clock in the Edmonton court.

In Serious Condition.—Jimmy Rippen, the boy who rode his bicycle through the window of the Crystal Palace Clothing Store, Jasper avenue, is in a serious but precarious condition today. He sustained a bad cut on the head which required half a dozen stitches.

Funeral of W. E. Tillson.—The funeral of the late W. E. Tillson, who died last Sunday, has been arranged for next Tuesday afternoon to take place at two o'clock from McCallum and Lambert's parlors to the Edmonton cemetery. The reason for the delay was the absence of Mrs. Tillson in Montreal, where she went to attend the funeral of a relative.

SUPREME COURT ACTION

A charge of obtaining money by false pretences, against James Brown and W. P. Wright, contractors, who built the Pontiac Theatre, is being heard in the supreme criminal court today. It is alleged that they billed the names of several non-existent men on the payroll, which was not by cheque issued by George Brown, for whom the theatre building was erected. The case is being heard before Mr. Justice Walker, Meeks, Hargreave and Ford are acting for the defense and Crown Prosecutor Campbell, assisted by Mr. A. C. McKay, are prosecuting.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

Peter Larson and E. Pedersen were arrested by the police last night on a charge of obtaining over $100 from Hans Stridman while en route to Park Saskatchewan in an automobile. The three men had been around town all day and in the evening having decided to go to Park Saskatchewan, chartered an automobile. They started in the Park in the machine but when Stridman arrived there he missed his money. He concluded that the other two had taken it while in the automobile, but said nothing until he got back to town. Then he informed the police and Pedersen and Larson were arrested. All three men are Swedish.

SHOT IN SHOULDER AND SANDBAGGED BY THREE HIGHWAYMEN

Bert Ransen, Lyceum Theatre Electrician, Held Up in Highlands

(From Evening Edition)

Disregarding the menacing appearance of a revolver pointed directly at him a few minutes after he left a street car at the end of the Highlands line, Bert Ransen, electrician at the Lyceum theatre, refused to give up his money when he was held up on Wed. night. When he tried to hit one of the men with the gun he found himself a bullet through his left shoulder. He was then relieved of nine dollars in cash and a gold watch and some smaller articles of jewelry. He recovered shortly after and went home, a doctor being called in to dress his wounds.

The wounds he sustained are painful but not dangerous.

The bullet lodged in the fleshy part of his shoulder. The sandbagging is not likely to have any serious result. Mr. Ransen lives a few blocks beyond the end of the Highlands car line. A search is being made by the police to locate the men, although Mr. Ransen is not able to give a detailed description of them.
